⁵ The foregoing commitment does not apply to any local activity engaged in by independent franchisees of Burger King Corp.

III. Definitions of Child-Directed Advertising

BKC will use the following criteria to define advertising primarily directed to children and to demonstrate compliance with CFBAI's Core Commitments.

Measured media. For measured media, BKC will define "advertising primarily directed to children" as advertising for which children ages 2-11 constitute at least 30% of the expected audience (the "audience threshold"). The audience demographics that determine compliance with this audience threshold will be measured in media impressions expected to be received by specific demographic groups at the time the advertising is purchased, based on reliable third-party information (e.g., Nielsen ratings for TV or comScore data for digital media).

BKC typically purchases television advertising once annually, well in advance of when the advertising will air, on a daypart or timeblock basis targeting ages 18 or older. BKC does not in the usual course of business engage in television advertising that is directed to children under 13. Advertising placed in purchased dayparts or timeblocks will be identified as compliant for purposes of CFBAI based on an analysis of the annualized audience composition data for the block of time purchased.

Digital and online media. For "contextual advertising," which is served based on the content that is adjacent to the ad or in which the ad is placed, BKC will determine whether such content is child-directed based on an assessment of the composition of the audience for that content (if known) or, where reliable audience composition data is not available, an assessment of multiple factors related to that content.

Where audience composition is known, BKC will consider such advertising primarily directed to children if 30% or more of the audience for the site, app, or content in which the ad is placed are children under age 13. Where audience composition data is inadequate to make this determination, such advertising will be deemed primarily directed to children if the ad is placed in content that appears to be child-directed based on an evaluation of multiple factors related to that content, including available information regarding age demographics for the site or digital content, an assessment of the overall nature of the content, including but not limited to the subject matter of the site or video, the visual content, the language used, the kind of music or audio content, the difficulty of game play, the influencer or influencers featured in the content, actions taken to restrict children's access to the site or content, and content identifier tools that indicate whether content is child-directed provided by platforms or content developers.

For other ("non contextual") digital advertising, which is targeted to the audience for that ad in a variety of ways, BKC will meet its CFBAI commitments by using reliable age-targeting tools and/or other interest-based or behavioral factors to avoid serving ads for foods that do not meet CFBAI's Uniform Nutrition Criteria to children. These tools include:

1. Age-targeting (based on cookie data or other age indicia) to audiences other than children;

2. Targeting based on interest-based or behavioral data to audiences other than children;
3. Exclusion of specific sites, channels or other content that are directed to children; and
4. The use of relevant topic, keyword, or content classification or identification systems or filters provided by the platform owner or content developer (e.g., an app developer).

IV. ADVERTISING TO CHILDREN UNDER SIX YEARS OLD

BKC commits to not engage in advertising primarily directed to children under six.
